CARDINAL OFFENSIVE LINE

Cary Simon sings that nobody does it better and nobody does it quite like you. Members of the Cardinal offensive line could not be faulted for thinking her words are meant for them. They consider themselves the best in the NFL and they have a style unlike any other collection by position on the Cardinal roster. They are leaders. They are intimidators and they are very good. Best is Dan Dierdorf, who for the past three seasons has been picked by the players in the NFC as their top offensive lineman. Another important member of this elite group is center Tom Banks, who has started for the NFC in the Pro Bowl four straight seasons. The world's second strongest man (via a CBS-TV contest) is Bob Young, the Cardinals' left guard who also started for the NFC in the Pro Bowl last January.

The Cardinal offensive line has led the National Football Conference in preventing quarterback sacks for the past five seasons and the entire NFL for three of the past five years.

WILLIAM V. BIDWILL, PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Bill Bidwill became chief executive officer of the St. Louis Football Cardinals in 1972. From then through 1978, the Cardinals have been consistent contenders and enjoyed their greatest success during that period of play in St. Louis.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of the Cardinals' arrival on the St. Louis scene, Bidwill has restructured and revamped the club's business establishment from a general partnership to a corporation. Included in the realignment in which Bidwill became President are Vice President-Operations Joe Sullivan and Vice President-Administration Bing Devine. Along with Head Coach Bud Wilkinson, they report directly to Bidwill, the club's chief executive officer.

Since the team's arrival in St. Louis, Bidwill has devoted full time to the Cardinal organization and its operations. He grew up in the Big Red organization which traces its lineage back to a group known as the Morgan Athletic Club in south Chicago just before the turn of the century.

Early in the 1900's, the team became the Racine Street Cardinals and eventually the Chicago Cardinals until 1960 when the team moved to St. Louis. It has been a fixture on the St. Louis scene since that time. The Cardinals with the Chicago Bears are the two charter members of the National Football League, which was officially established in 1920.

Bidwill, 47, is the son of the late Charles W. Bidwill, a member of pro football's Hall of Fame and former owner and president of the Cardinals.

Bidwill has been involved in every area of the team's operations since his youth. He began as a water boy and became team vice president while in his early twenties.

In the St. Louis area, he has been active in many civic and charitable activities. Because of his interest in orthopedics, he became involved in the establishment of a chair in Orthopedic Surgery at Washington University.

His interests run the gamut of almost every civic and charitable organization in St. Louis.

A graduate of Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., and a Navy veteran, Bidwill and his wife, Nancy, live in Clayton, Mo., (a St. Louis suburb) and have four sons — William, Jr., Patrick, Michael and Timothy — and a daughter, Nicole.

DEVINE

JOE SULLIVAN, Vice President, Operations

The 1979 season marks the seventh year in which Joe Sullivan has served as director of football operations, a title recently upgraded to Vice President-Operations. In his background are 23 years association and involvement in professional football.

Sullivan, whose personnel moves provided major impetus to the Football Cardinals NFC Eastern Division Championships in 1974 and 1975, previously served in the front offices of the Chicago Bears, Los Angeles Rams and Washington Redskins.

Sullivan is involved in every football phase of the organization. His extensive duties specifically include trades, supervision of the Big Red's college and professional scouting, contract signings and personnel relations.

In addition he also was instrumental in the movement in 1976 of the Cardinals' preseason training camp to The Lindenwood Colleges located in nearby St. Charles, Mo.

Sullivan, 55, came to the Big Red in 1973 from Washington, where he served as Assistant General Manager and Assistant to the Head Coach in 1971-72 when the Redskins went to the Super Bowl in the latter season.

The first affiliation with the NFL for Sullivan came in 1956 when he joined the Green Bay Packers personnel department prior to the draft.

An interesting sidelight that year in the draft was the Packers' 17th-round choice of Bart Starr. As Sullivan tells it now, "Pro scouts were wary of Bart's physical condition and only after heavy outside pressures was he made the Packers' selection on obviously a late round. The results, as often is the case, prove how smart all of us are, or rather are not, on occasion."

Two years later Sullivan joined the Chicago Bears in a similar capacity thus beginning a 14-year association with George Allen. In 1966 he accompanied the new head coach to Los Angeles as special assignments coach in which capacity he served the next five years.

A native of Milwaukee and a veteran of the Marine Corps, Sullivan and his wife, Joan, live in Clayton, Mo., a suburb of St. Louis.

MANAGEMENT

BING DEVINE, Vice President, Administration

Bing Devine joined the Football Cardinals' front office in May, 1979, as part of a major restructuring of the football operations. He brings to the Big Red a new perspective gained from more than 40 years in professional sports.

His record includes a life-long association with baseball — most of it on the major league level — which began as he cranked out publicity releases for the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals while he was still in school. He served as general manager of the club from 1958 to 1964 and again from 1968 to 1978.

Despite the fact he served in other cities, as president of the New York Mets and, more recently, associated with the San Francisco Giants, he never left St. Louis . . . retaining his home and family here during that entire period.

While Devine has been a career baseball executive, his extensive background in athletics includes early participation in almost all sports activities locally and one season as a minor league baseball player.

A native of St. Louis and graduate of Washington University, where he played baseball and basketball, Devine joined the Cardinals' publicity staff in 1939 and became business manager two years later at Johnson City, Tenn.

After naval service in World War II, Devine rejoined the Redbirds' organization, became the club's publicity director in St. Louis in 1948, then general manager of their top farm club, Rochester, N.Y., of the International League, in 1949. He returned to St. Louis in 1955 as assistant to Dick Meyer, Anheuser-Busch official who was then general manager and later succeeded Frank Lane as G.M. when Lane went to Cleveland after the 1957 season. Devine was named baseball Executive of the Year for The Sporting News by his fellow general managers in both 1963 and 1964.

Between his two terms as general manager of the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals, Devine was assistant to the general manager and then general manager of the New York Mets. He was the Mets' president when August A. Busch, Jr., asked him to return to succeed Stan Musial following the 1967 season.

Devine will be involved in off-the-field administration with the Football Cardinals, specializing in the area of public relations.

He and his wife, Mary, live in St. Louis. They have three daughters . . . Mrs. Joanne Schaumburg, Janice Devine and Mrs. Jane Pilkington, and three grandchildren.

LARRY WILSON, Director of Pro Personnel

Larry Wilson is one of the all-time greats in professional football. Few other men parallel the regard in which he is held . . . both as a player and as a gentleman in the sports field.

His playing style is legendary, and he has become an all-time St. Louis hero. Whenever professional football is mentioned, Wilson's name comes into the picture.

With just the minimum five-year wait, he was selected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in January, 1978.

At his induction in Canton, Ohio, what he had to say perhaps best exemplifies Wilson:

"This is number one. Football always has been fun to me and it can't be fun when it is drudgery or if you are playing just for the money. I had a dream back in 1960 when it all began that some day it would end up here."

On the same occasion Wilson's college coach at Utah, Jack Curtice, said, "The only mistake I ever made was underestimating him. I was afraid to use him at first because he weighed about 175 — but he had 300 pounds of heart inside him."

Wilson, 41, retired after the 1972 season and has been a member of the Big Red's front office since then. He served four years as the team's director of pro scouting and is in his third year working closely with Joe Sullivan in top operational activities.

Wilson was a great running back at Utah and became the Cardinals seventh-round draft choice in 1960, the year the team moved to St. Louis.

As a rookie, he was switched to defensive back and immediately became a starter. He made the safety blitz famous and has been described by former quarterback, Bobby Layne, as "the toughest man in football."

On the now famous safety blitz it was the Cardinals' defensive coordinator in 1960, the late Chuck Drulis, who had been planning the daring maneuver. In later explaining the decision to implement the idea with Wilson, Drulis said, "I had to wait for the right player to execute it. He had to be quick, he had to be a hard tackler and he had to have a lot of guts because he could be belted really hard by their big offensive linemen if anything went wrong. Larry had all those attributes."

In his 13-year playing career, Wilson broke 10 Big Red records including almost every interception mark. He played in eight Pro Bowl games and was named All Pro six different times. His greatest records were set in 1966 when he led the NFL with 10 interceptions and tied a league mark with interceptions in seven consecutive games.

COACHES

BUD WILKINSON, HEAD COACH

Bud Wilkinson has brought another legend to the Football Cardinals. He joined the team on March 2, 1978, in a surprise move which made news throughout the entire athletic world.

Wilkinson carried the St. Louis Football Cardinals through an incredible "Tale of Two Seasons" in 1978, his first season as an NFL head coach. To begin the campaign, the team sustained a disappointing and frustrating eight losses in eight tries. However, in the second half, Wilkinson's charges came off the turf to gain six wins in eight attempts, a mark matched in the NFC only by the Dallas Cowboys.

Obviously the players responded to Wilkinson's emotional stability in the face of disappointment, to his coaching techniques and his confidence and optimism under fire.

Jim Hart said it best. "He kept us together. He was always positive. I think people expected us to fall apart when we kept losing, but we didn't and Bud was the major factor. It was easy to play for him."

Wilkinson's record at Oklahoma was a composite of 145-29-4. His teams won conference championships 14 times in his 17-year career (1947-63) as head coach. They won three national championships, two Sugar Bowls, four Orange Bowls, and his record includes four undefeated seasons.

Some of the honors and awards Wilkinson received for his collegiate coaching achievements included selection as the Coach of the Year by the National Football Coaches Association in 1949 and by the Associated Press poll in 1950. He also was voted a member of the College Football Hall of Fame.

Wilkinson, at age 62, returned to the coaching ranks after an absence of 15 years from active coaching. During that time he was a TV commentator for national collegiate football broadcasts and was able to observe from the press box more players, more teams and their styles than almost any other active coach today.

Recognized as a master organizer, Wilkinson fulfilled his reputation by assembling for the Cardinals an outstanding staff of assistant coaches, delegating responsibility and utilizing to full extent their individual specialized skills.

During Wilkinson's retirement from active coaching, he spent time in political and business ventures.

In 1961, Wilkinson was appointed by President John F. Kennedy as the national director of the President's Council on Physical Fitness and was later reappointed by President Lyndon Johnson. He also was a special consultant to President Richard Nixon from 1969 to 1971. In 1964, he ran for the U.S. Senate Seat from Oklahoma.

Before joining the Cardinals, he served as Chairman of the Board of the Public Employers Benefit Services Corporation (PEBSCO) in Oklahoma City, Okla., and of the Planned Marketing Associates subsidiary of the S.S. Kresge Co.

Wilkinson lives in St. Louis with his wife, Donna. His two sons, Pat and Jay, live in Oklahoma City. Pat is an ophthalmologist and Jay, a former Duke University All-American, is a successful businessman.

Wilkinson is the 27th head coach in Cardinal history, and the sixth head coach since the Big Red moved to St. Louis.

TOM BETTIS, Defensive Coordinator

Tom Bettis is entering his second season as defensive coordinator for the Cardinals on Bud Wilkinson's staff. Under his supervision, the Big Red moved from among the lowest ranked teams defensively in the league to 13th overall in 1978. This was accomplished in a one-year span, despite a disappointing record for the first half of the season.

Bettis joined the Cardinals in March, 1978, after 12 seasons as defensive backfield coach with the Kansas City Chiefs. He also served as the Chiefs' head coach after Paul Wiggin was released midway through the 1977 season.

Noted for the development of young players, his Chiefs' secondaries led the American Conference in interceptions for five straight seasons (1966-70) and in 1964. He helped coach Kansas City to a Super Bowl appearance in 1967 and the championship in 1970 along with AFC championships in 1966 and 1969 and playoff appearances in 1968, 1969 and 1971.

Bettis is a native Chicagoan. He attended St. Mel High School, then went on to Purdue where he was an All-American selection in 1953 and 1954 and made the All Big Ten team for three seasons, as a linebacker and offensive guard. In 1954, he was fourth in the Heisman Trophy balloting, gathering more votes than any other lineman that year. He also was co-captain of the 1955 College All Star team.

Bettis' pro career began with Green Bay after the Packers made him their first draft choice in 1955. He was a starting linebacker with the Packers until 1961, helping them earn a world championship. In 1962 he was traded to Pittsburgh before concluding his career with another world championship team, the 1963 Chicago Bears.

Following a brief retirement to private business, he was encouraged by Hank Stram to join the Kansas City staff in 1966. He also had served as a pro talent scout in 1964 and 1965.

Bettis and his wife, Valerie, have three daughters. Twenty-two-year-old Lisa is a teacher in Mesa, Ariz., Karen, 21, will be a senior at Arizona State and Krista, 15, will be a sophomore in high school.

RUDY FELDMAN, Defensive Line

Rudy Feldman, also entering his second year as a defensive coach on Bud Wilkinson's staff, is a former assistant to Wilkinson at the University of Oklahoma. His coaching experience includes a total of more than 20 years in both the collegiate and professional football ranks.

Feldman was an assistant coach with the San Diego Chargers for four years before joining the Cardinal staff. He coached the Chargers' defensive line from 1974 to 1976, then moved to handle their offensive line in 1977.

Feldman has been an assistant coach at three Big Eight schools and was a head coach at New Mexico for six seasons. He began his coaching career at Iowa State in 1957 and spent the next five years (1958-62) with Wilkinson at Oklahoma before serving as the top assistant at Colorado from 1963 to 1967. As a head coach at New Mexico from 1968 until 1973, he coached a West team in the East-West Shrine Game in 1971.

The 47-year-old native of San Francisco and Palo Alto High graduate, was a guard at UCLA from 1950-53. He was captain of the 1953 team that had an 8-1 record and played Michigan State in the Rose Bowl.

Feldman and his wife, Joanne, have two sons - Kirk, 21, who is a senior at UCLA and Kent, 18, who will begin college at California Polytechnic at San Luis Obispo this fall - along with a 14-year-old daughter, Lisa, who is a high school sophomore.

HARRY GILMER, Quarterbacks and Receivers

Harry Gilmer, an outstanding college and NFL performer, begins his 22nd NFL coaching season and the fifth year of his second tour of duty with the Cardinals. The 53-year-old former NFL head coach with Detroit, was the Big Red's quarterbacks coach from 1967-69, before coaching with the Atlanta Falcons from 1970-74.

COACHES

Gilmer was one of two assistants asked to remain with the Cardinals following the 1977 season. He and offensive line coach Jim Hanifan were the foundation to Wilkinson's 1978 staff, and provided a link with the top-flight offensive thrust of the Cardinals produced over recent years.

Gilmer's NFL coaching stops also have included offensive backfield (1957) and defensive coach (1958-60) under Buddy Parker at Pittsburgh and defensive coach with Minnesota from 1961 to 1964. He was head coach of the Detroit Lions from 1965 to 1966 and compiled a 10-16-2 record.

A quarterback at Alabama, Gilmer was the NFL's No. 1 draft choice by Washington in 1948. He twice gained All Pro honors (1950 and 1952) with the Redskins and played at Detroit for two seasons (1955-56).

A native of Birmingham, Ala., Gilmer and his wife, Katherine, have a son, three married daughters and four grandchildren.

FRED GLICK, Defensive Secondary

A former Cardinal player (1959-60), Glick joined the Big Red staff in 1978 after five years as defensive secondary coach under Frank Kush at Arizona State.

Glick was a three-year All Pro as a player with Houston (All-AFL, 1962-64) and holds a league record set in 1963 with 12 interceptions. Among other honors in six seasons with the Oilers (1961-66), he was named Most Valuable Player in 1964 and co-captain of the 1966 squad. He retired from playing after the 1966 season because of a back injury.

Glick brought to the Big Red staff a player's knowledge of the pro game and 10 years of collegiate coaching experience. He started coaching in 1967 as defensive coordinator for the division champion Norfolk Neptunes of the Continental Football League. In 1968, he was a coach at New Mexico State. He spent the next four seasons, from 1969-72, as the defensive secondary coach at the University of Arizona before moving on to the Arizona State staff.

Glick, 42, was born in Aurora, Colo. He played quarterback and defensive halfback at Colorado State and was named the Rams' outstanding senior athlete in 1958. Glick and his wife, Marlene, have three children - Greg, 22, David, 20, and Kathy, 18.

LEON McLAUGHLIN, Special Assistant to the Head Coach

Leon McLaughlin also came to the Cardinals in 1978 to fill the newly-created position as special assistant to Bud Wilkinson. With a coaching career that has spanned over two decades, he is especially suited for the responsibility of scouting Cardinal opponents.

Mac, 54, was a four-year starter at linebacker and center for UCLA. He centered the Los Angeles Rams' line for five years from 1951 to 1955, helping the Rams win one NFL title and two playoff appearances.

He began his coaching career as an assistant at Washington State in 1956, then transferred to Santa Monica (Ca.) High School as a head coach in 1957. He later coached at Stanford for seven years as an assistant from 1959 through 1965, and was the head coach at San Fernando State from 1969 to 1971.

McLaughlin entered the pro coaching ranks with the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1966 where he remained until 1969. He returned to the NFL in 1971 as an assistant with his pro alma mater, Los Angeles.

In 1973 he moved to Detroit where he coached the offensive line for two seasons, then joined Bart Starr's Green Bay Packers' staff in 1975. He left to work under Chuck Fairbanks with the New England Patriots in 1977.

A native of San Diego, Ca., Mac and his wife, Jackie have three sons and a daughter. Their youngest son, Scott, is center and captain of the University of Pacific basketball team.

DUANE PUTNAM, Offensive Line

Duane Putnam, a three-time All Pro with the Los Angeles Rams, takes over this season as coach of the Cardinal offensive line, consistently one of the finest in the National Football League.

A close friend of Cardinal assistant coach Harry Gilmer since the period when they were both assistants at Atlanta, Putnam joined the staff this year to fill the post vacated when Jim Hanifan accepted a coaching position in San Diego.

Putnam's NFL coaching experience includes five years with Atlanta where he coached the offensive line beginning in 1970, and three years under Dick Vermeil of the Philadelphia Eagles from 1976 to 1978.

Putnam, 51, is a native of Pollack, S.D. After Army service from 1946 to 1948, he enrolled at the College of the Pacific, where he starred at guard before graduating in 1952.

As a member of the Los Angeles Rams from 1952 to 1959, he was named to All Pro teams three times (1955 and 1957-58). He played for Dallas in 1960 and Cleveland in 1961 before returning to the Rams to complete his playing career in 1962.

Putnam's first coaching position was at the Los Angeles Valley Junior College as offensive line coach from 1962 to 1968.

With his wife, Patty, he has a son, Steve, a married daughter, Pam Kingsfield, and four grandchildren — Kim, Bryan, Kevin and Billy.

JIM SWEENEY, Offensive Backfield

A highly successful collegiate head coach noted for offensive creativity, Jim Sweeney joined Bud Wilkinson on the Big Red coaching staff this year.

Sweeney, 50, was the special teams coach for the Oakland Raiders in 1978, following 15 years as a collegiate head coach at Montana State, Washington State and Fresno State. During that span, he won numerous coaching honors. He was a four-time conference coach of the year, twice district coach of the year and runner-up for national coach of the year.

Born in Butte, Mont., Sweeney is a University of Portland (Ore.) graduate. He began his coaching career with nine years as a high school coach in Montana where he produced five state champion teams.

Sweeney joined the Montana State staff as an assistant coach in 1960. In 1963, he became head coach of the Bobcats, who were Big Sky Conference champions from 1964 to 1967. Sweeney was chosen conference coach of the year three times and District 8, Division II coach of the year in 1966.

In 1968, Sweeney took over as head coach at Washington State University. He was named District 10 Coach of the Year and PAC-8 Coach of the Year in 1972. Twice runner-up for National Coach of the Year (1966, 1971), he coached in the Coaches All-American game in Lubbock, Tex., in 1972 and was head coach of the West squad in the East-West Shrine game in 1973.

COACHES

Before joining Oakland in 1978, he coached at Fresno State University in 1976 and 1977. His '77 team was the Pacific Coast Athletic Association (PCAA) conference champion.

Along with Ken Greene and Eason Ramson from the Cardinals' squad whom he recruited for Washington State, Sweeney was the college coach of a number of NFL players. He coached New York Giant kicker Joe Danelo at WSU and a leading rusher in the PAC 8, Bernard Jackson (1971), who is now a safety for the Denver Broncos. His godson, Kansas City kicker Jan Stenerud, entered the NFL ranks from Sweeney's 1966 Montana State team.

Sweeney's family includes his wife, Lucille, five daughters and three sons.

JERRY THOMPSON, Special Teams

Jerry Thompson, 41, became the first Cardinal coach ever hired specifically to handle the Big Red's special teams when he joined the staff in 1978.

A former player and coach for Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma, Thompson spent the 1977 season as a coach in the Canadian Football League where the kicking game dominates. He was the defensive coordinator for the Saskatchewan Roughriders. For 10 seasons before that, Thompson was the defensive line coach at Arizona State University and saw the Sun Devils take part in four Fiesta Bowls and the 1970 Peach Bowl.

A native of Ada, Okla., Thompson was an All-American lineman out of state champion (1955-56) Ada High School. He was a three-year starter at guard and tackle for Wilkinson's conference champion Oklahoma Sooners (1957-59). In his senior year he was named an All-American, Academic-All-American and to the 1959 All-Big Eight team.

Thompson stayed on at Oklahoma as coach of the freshman team in 1960, left to coach high school football for two years (1961-62), then returned to OU as an assistant line coach for Wilkinson in 1963 and remained through 1965. He also coached the defensive line at Kansas State University in 1966.

Thompson holds a business/education degree earned at Oklahoma and received a master's degree in counseling from Arizona State in 1973. He and his wife, Sue, have two sons — Tad, 19, and Tee, 16.

DON BROWN, Flexibility/Strength Coordinator

Don Brown begins his second season charged with the development of daily conditioning programs for each of the Cardinal players.

Brown, 28, was an assistant coach for the Wake Forest University football team in Winston-Salem, N.C., while attending graduate school there. He holds a B.S. in mathematics; earned an M.A. in counseling in 1976, and has been enrolled in a masters in Business Administration program since 1977.

Nicknamed "Cool Down", Brown is a graduate of Butler (Pa.) High School. He studied under Paul Uram, now flexibility coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers. Uram pioneered an approach to conditioning athletes that involves flexibility drills and has resulted in fewer muscle strains and tears. During his college years at Wake Forest, Brown was a starter at outside linebacker. In his senior year (1972), he was the Demon Deacon's Most Valuable Player.

Brown is single.

BOONE

WEST

GEORGE BOONE, Director of Player Personnel

Responsible for the Cardinal choices each year in the National Football League's college player draft is the Big Red's personnel director, George Boone. Boone begins his seventh year as leader of the team's college scouting operations and coordinator of the yearly search for collegiate players.

Filling the team roster each year with young and talented players has become a monumental task and Boone has a working experience in its many facets. He began his NFL work in 1966 as a scout for the Central-Eastern Professional Organization (CEPO), a scouting combine for seven league teams, including the Cardinals. In 1968, he was hired by the Big Red as assistant personnel director, a post he held for five seasons.

Boone assumed the duties of personnel director in 1973. Under his supervision, the Cardinal scouting department has grown to a year-round operation with a five-man staff which also utilizes the United Scouting combine, a service used by 15 NFL teams.

Boone, 39, was born in Louisville, Ky. He was a three-year starter at offensive and defensive tackle at Kentucky from 1957-59 and was an assistant coach with the Wildcats from 1960-65. Boone holds a bachelor's and a master's degree in education from Kentucky. He and his wife, Dedee, are parents of four daughters and a son.

STAN WEST, Personnel Scout

An All-American for Big Red head coach Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma in 1949 and a former assistant coach at Minnesota, Stan West begins his 15th season with the Cardinal organization. He was the first full-time scout hired by the club in 1965 and has seen the scouting staff grow to five members over the past eight years. West's main scouting territory is the Near West, including states in the Southwest and Midwest.

As a player with the Sooners, West was an All-American lineman and was Los Angeles' first draft choice in 1950. After five years as a starter at linebacker for the Rams, he played for the New York Giants in 1955 and the Chicago Cardinals from 1956-57. After three seasons as assistant coach of the Minnesota Vikings (1961-63), West stayed out of football for a year, but returned in 1965 to join the Cardinal staff.

A Norman, Okla., resident, he and his wife, Mary Frances, have two sons - Tom, 26 and Ted, 22.

BO BOLINGER, Personnel Scout

Another All-American for Wilkinson at Oklahoma, Bo Bolinger enters his ninth year as a scout for the Cardinals. He joined the staff before the start of the 1971 season after a number of collegiate coaching stops and two years as an offensive line coach in the Canadian Football League. He handles the Far West and West Coast territory for the club plus other assignments from George Boone.

A small but sturdy guard, Bolinger received his All-American honors in 1955 and was a two-time all conference selection with the Sooners. He stayed with Wilkinson at OU in 1965 as a graduate assistant, then coached high school football at Miami, Okla. in 1957. His first collegiate coaching position was at Denver, where he handled the offensive and defensive lines from 1958-60. He also was the defensive coordinator at the University of Tulsa (1961-62), offensive and defensive coordinator while at New Mexico (1963-67) and defensive coordinator for Utah State in 1968 before joining the Calgary Stampeders for the 1969-70 seasons.

Bolinger, 46, and his wife, Barbara, live in Tempe, Ariz. They have three daughters and a grandson.

MATT LAIR, Personnel Scout

Matt Lair, who begins his sixth season on the Big Red's scouting staff, has almost 30 years of football coaching and scouting experience. Lair, 53, came to the Cardinals in 1974 after working for six years with the Central-Eastern Professional Organization (CEPO), a scouting combine for seven NFL teams including the Cardinals. His main scouting territory is the Near East, and also includes some states in the Midwest.

Born in Paris, Ky., Lair played linebacker and guard at the University of Kentucky, which he attended from 1941-42 and 1946-47. He was a high school coach in Kentucky and Alabama for five years and then spent the next 15 years in assistant roles in Kentucky, Texas A & M and Texas Tech. He joined CEPO in 1968. Lair and his wife, Helen, live in Danville, Ky.

ACE PARKER, Personnel Scout

A member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Clarence "Ace" Parker begins his fourth year with the Big Red. Parker, 65, played in both the NFL and the National Baseball League. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1972.

PERSONNEL

Called one of the last of the great triple-threat stars in professional football, Parker was an all purpose offensive and defensive back with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1937-41, the Boston Yanks in 1945 and the New York Yankees of the All-America Football Conference in 1946.

Parker is a member of five halls of fame including Duke University, North Carolina, Virginia and the National Collegiate Athletic Association Hall of Fame along with the NFL honors. He had been an All-American tailback at Duke in 1936 and was the Brooklyn Dodgers' first draft choice in 1937. Because he had signed a baseball contract with the Philadelphia Athletics, he didn't report to the Dodgers until midway into the football season. In his first full season in 1938, he gained all NFL honors, decided to stay in football and turned down a baseball contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates. He was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1940 before a service call interrupted his career in 1941. He returned to the game for the 1945 and 1946 season to complete career totals of 498 rushing yards and 14 TDs on 148 attempts and 335 completions in 718 passing attempts for 4701 yards and 30 TDs.

Ace also has served as a scout for the San Francisco 49ers. His main territory is the Far Eastern United States and he and his wife, Thelma, live in his native town of Portsmouth, Va.

JOHN OMOHUNDRO, Trainer

A most familiar face in the Big Red locker room belongs to hard-working and dedicated John Omohundro. "Johnny O" begins his ninth season as head trainer for the Cardinals. Previously, he spent four seasons as assistant trainer.

Omohundro is a native of Salt Lake City, Utah. He holds a bachelor's degree in physical education from the University of Wyoming, where he also earned 26 hours of graduate study. Before joining the Cardinals in 1967, he was a student assistant trainer and graduate assistant trainer at Wyoming from 1962-67. He also worked as the head athletic trainer at the College of Southern Utah in Cedar City in 1961.

Omohundro, 36, and his wife, Martha, are the parents of two sons, Johnny, 5, and Jimmy, 3.

JIM SHEARER, Assistant Trainer

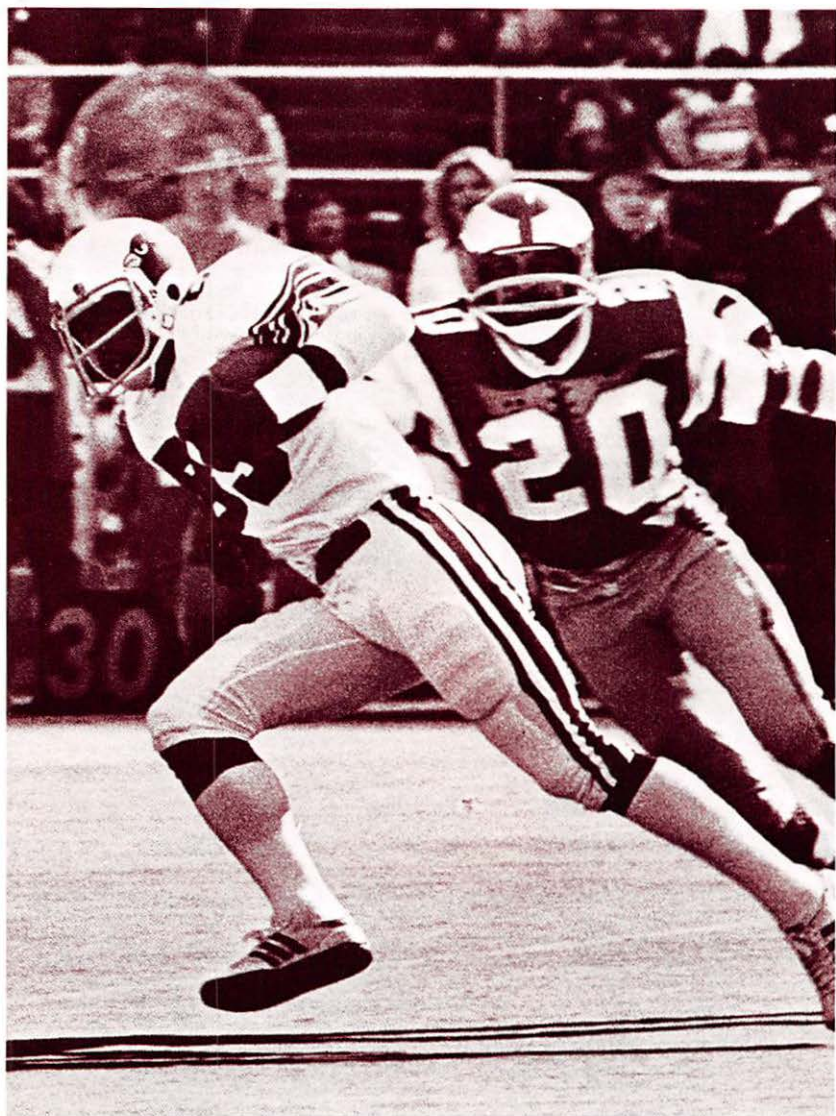

Helping to keep the Cardinals healthy and protected from injuries again this season is Jim Shearer, who begins his sixth year as the Big Red's assistant trainer. Like Omohundro, Shearer received his training experience at the University of Wyoming. He received a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1972 and returned for graduate study while serving as a graduate assistant trainer in 1973 and 1974.

A native of Worland, Wyo., Shearer also has worked as assistant recreation director for the city of Gillette, Wyo., and head trainer for Gillette High School from 1972-73. He and his wife, Nelma, have a 2 year-old son, Christopher.

BILL SIMMONS, Equipment Manager

The task of assembling and caring for the Big Red's vast equipment resources falls again into the capable hands of Bill Simmons. Simmons has seen the Big Red's equipment coffers grow steadily in his many years with the club. He became the Cardinals' equipment manager in 1966 and will begin his 14th season in 1979. Before joining the Big Red, he was a teacher at Ferguson Junior High School in St. Louis and officiated and coached high school sports for 18 years.

Born in Kansas City, Simmons, 54, earned a bachelor's and a master's degree from Northeast Missouri State University around tours of military duty in World War II and the Korean War. He and his wife, Katie, have five children and three grandchildren. Eldest son, Dan, is in his seventh year as equipment manager for the New Orleans Saints.

PRO: Awesome enforcer of the intimidating Cardinal offensive line and a team leader for good reasons . . . With 1978 honor has been selected by players (NFL Players Association) as top offensive lineman in NFC for third consecutive season . . . Has been the mainstay of the Cardinal line which has allowed fewest sacks in NFL three of last five years and five out of five in the NFC . . . Now has gained Pro Bowl and All-NFL accolades for five consecutive years . . . Had not missed a game for injury in first six seasons with Cardinals, then out of two plus part of third in 1977 with broken jaw suffered at hands of Vikings' linebacker Matt Blair . . . Candid reaction about possible complacency after achieving recognition as the best offensive lineman in football has been, "No, there's more motivation to maintain that status. There is no tendency to rest on one's laurels, Don't tell me what you did for me yesterday, tell me what you'll do for me tomorrow. You're always definitely the target of the people you play against" . . . And perhaps the key to consistency in his performance "I constantly monitor how I'm doing" . . . Must be doing all right by any standard with success based on incredible combination of agility, quickness, size, strength and desire . . . Don't tell him life begins at 30; the Dierdorf level of production just goes on unabated.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL: Cardinals' second round draft choice in 1971 after making seven All-American teams as senior at Michigan . . . Two-time All Big Ten pick . . . Played in East-West, Hula Bowl, Coaches All-American and College All-Star games . . . Was named Amateur Athlete of Michigan in 1970 . . . Current chairman for St. Louis Easter Seals; is on the Board of Trustees for Cystic Fibrosis and also is actively involved with Multiple Sclerosis Society and the March of Dimes . . . Has weekly radio show (KMOX) with Jim Hart . . . Born and raised in Canton, Ohio where he attended Glenwood High . . . Lives in St. Louis.

PRO: One of the most feared deep receivers in the NFL . . . Comes into 1979 season with receptions in 76 consecutive games, second longest streak in Cardinal history behind Bobby Joe Conrad's 94 . . . Missed final three games of 1978 season due to ankle injury, falling short of hoped-for 1,000-yard season . . . Still had second best season as a pro, only four receptions and 55 yards behind 1975 when yardage and TDs led NFC . . . Career marks improved to 255 catches, good for fourth best in team history; 5,144 yards just 294 behind Sonny Randle (third best) and 684 behind Conrad (second) and 39 TD receptions only one behind second best Jackie Smith . . . Of 39 TDs, 24 have been 40 yards or more . . . Continued stunning success against Dallas although TD streak was stopped at nine games in second Cowboy contest . . . Has 49 receptions for 1,019 yards in career vs. Dallas and 12 TDs, while 39 catches have come since 1975 . . . Best day of 1978 was against Dallas in first game with seven receptions for 107 yards . . . Added six-catch, 112-yard performance against Baltimore . . . Scored first career rushing TD in '78 with 27-yard jaunt against Washington . . . Has 10 career TDs vs. Giants . . . Injury in '78 may have prevented fifth straight Pro Bowl appearance; snared scoring passes in 1974 and 1975 games . . . Six-yard scoring play against Redskins in 1975 was shortest ever — and most controversial; TD enabled Cardinals to tie game and eventually win in overtime for playoff spot . . . Was team MVP in 1977 and rookie of the year in 1971 . . . Pass-catching average of 19.7 led NFL in 1974.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL: Drafted after record-breaking career at Missouri in sixth round of 1971 NFL draft . . . In junior year, established Missouri receiving records for yards (705), TDs (nine) and average (27.1) . . . Capped career with 90-yard TD on kickoff return in senior year and scored TD in East-West Shrine Game . . . Phenomenal speed saw him clocked at 4.3 as Cardinal rookie and once ran 9.2 100 as college senior . . . In college, won seven of nine 100-yard titles; outstanding athlete in 1970 Big 8 meet with first in 100, 200, long jump and third-place in triple jump . . . Worked with Institute for Better Health in San Diego aiding juvenile delinquents in 1978 . . . Part-owner of KIRL Radio in St. Louis . . . Born in Fresno, Ca., single, lives in San Diego.

PRO: Will have excellent chance in 1979 to develop to full potential, with opportunity to handle all facets of the Big Red's kicking chores since Jim Bakken's departure . . . Will face strong challenge, however, from fellow second-year man Mike Wood . . . Selected by Cardinals in first round of 1978 NFL draft . . . Charlie Gogolak (1966), Ray Guy (1973) and Russell Erxleben (1979) are only other punter/kickers to be taken on first round in league history . . . Responsible for all of Big Red's kickoffs and punting for first half of 1978 season, but sidelined by knee injury suffered in eighth game while making a tackle after punt against Jets . . . Played in total of 11 games, sharing duties in latter part of season with Wood, who was signed during week following Little's injury . . . Averaged 38 yards per punt on 46 punts (1,749 yards) with six placed inside 20 . . . Expected to improve significantly in 1979 and live up to outstanding college reputation which obviously is indicative of tremendous ability.

PRO: Sprintout quarterback who signed as free agent with Big Red after October 15 Dallas game when Jim Hart suffered separated shoulder injury . . . Although he did not play a down for Cardinals in 1978 season, coaching staff was impressed with way he adapted quickly and handled himself in practices . . . Fine, natural athlete who was fourth-round draft pick of Los Angeles in 1978 . . . Had tryout with N.Y. Jets before joining the Cardinals . . . Good size and mobility . . . Will be given chance in preseason this year to battle for No. 2 spot at quarterback on Cardinal depth chart.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL: Gained more yards rushing in a season than any other Maryland quarterback . . . Ran the ball 125 times for 448 yards and three touchdowns his junior year while completing 81 of 139 passes for 1,145 yards and 11 touchdowns . . . His 1,593-yard season total was surpassed by only one other Maryland quarterback (Chicago Bears' Bob Avellini) . . . Named to first team All-Atlantic Coast Conference, Newspaper Enterprises Association second team All-American and honorable mention by Associated Press and United Press International his junior year . . . Led Maryland to an 11-0 season and the Cotton Bowl that year . . . Missed half of senior campaign with hand injury . . . Did complete 31 of 76 passing attempts that year and ran the ball 28 times for 73 yards . . . Former Heisman trophy candidate . . . Single and resides in College Park, Md. in offseason.

PRO: Running is his game — power running as demonstrated from fullback slot in Big Red's 27-17 victory over the Washington Redskins when Jim Otis was sidelined with injury in 1978. . . Set club record for number of carries with 36 attempts in that game for 123 yards, and was the only Cardinal runner to gain over 100 yards in a game during the 1978 season. . . Versatility is his name — filled the void at halfback last season which developed from Metcalf's departure. . . Consistency is his claim — with consecutive years, 1977-78, to gain over 600 yards each despite nagging injuries. . . Hurt knee in November 26 game against the Eagles; no surgery required, but was placed on injured reserve list with three games remaining in the season. . . Even with absence, ranked second on Big Red in rushing for second year in row with 631 yards on 174 carries and third in pass receiving (33 receptions for 298 yards). . . 13 starts in 13 games. . . Recorded 661 yards rushing in 1977 on 165 carries for 4.0-yard average per catch in 1977 although slowed with leg and knee ailments, and added 222 yards on 23 catches receiving. . . Same year was team's leading scorer (54) and paced club with nine TDs. . . Started seven games and played in 12. . . Chosen as Most Improved Player in 1977. . . In rookie season (1976) started one contest, appeared in 14 and with 292 rushing yards, was team leader with 4.6 yards per carry. . . One of team's best conditioned athletes. . . Speculation for 1979 — Will full potential be reached by continuation of "run to daylight" rushing beat?

COLLEGE, PERSONAL: Picked in fifth round of 1976 draft after setting all-time SMU record with 3,044 rushing yards; averaged 5.0 yards on 605 carries, scored 17 TDs and finished as fourth all-time Southwest Conference rusher. . . Best game was 201-yard show vs. Texas in 1975; top rushing years were 884 yards as freshman and 800 as senior. . . All-SWC as senior. . . Played in Blue-Gray game. . . Works for Dallas bank in off-season. . . Born in Dallas and is single.

PRO: Important "find" for Big Red from waiver's list last year . . . Four-year starter for New York Giants who were forced to place him on waivers in order to reactivate him after a voluntary retirement just before opening of 1978 season . . . Giants' second-round draft choice in 1974 . . . Started for New York at left guard almost immediately and was named to All-Rookie teams by United Press International, Pro Football Weekly and Pro Football Writers Association . . . Proved to be outstanding pass blocker . . . Played left guard and left tackle in 1975 but missed several games because of shoulder injury which required surgery at end of season . . . Bulwark as starter at left tackle in 1976, but knee injury in 12th game ended his season and surgery again was required . . . Another injury in 1977 season (8 games) required third shoulder operation . . . When shoulder continued to dislocate in 1978 training camp practices, he asked for voluntary retirement . . . Giants tried to reactivate him on Oct. 27, and Cardinals claimed him . . . With departure of Roger Finnie to New Orleans in trade, a healthy Mullen will be valuable addition to Cardinal offensive line.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL: Four-year letterman at tackle for Southwest Missouri State . . . Named to All-Conference team twice and also twice an All-American honorable mention . . . PRO: A fierce tackler with hopes to be fully recuperated from nagging knee injury that has been slow in recovery . . . Left cornerback who played in all 16 games in 1978 and started at right cornerback position for injured Roger Wehrli in Cardinals' 27-17 victory over Washington . . . Used frequently in Big Red's version of nickel defense for pass prevent situations . . . Had 20 tackles for season and one interception on last San Francisco offensive play of game which cut off a 49er comeback bid in Cardinals' 16-10 victory; received a game ball for that effort . . . Also returned three kickoffs for 58 yards and 19.3-yard average . . . Started parts of each of his first two seasons with Cardinals but was slowed by injuries . . . Replaced starter Perry Smith at left corner in third game of 1977 and then started the next seven games before knee injury in game vs. Philadelphia ended season for him; he missed final four games . . . Had interceptions in three straight games (Saints, Giants and Vikings); four interceptions was Cardinal second best to Roger Wehrli's five . . . Was greeted by 18 Roger Staubach passes in starting role debut in 1977 . . . Extremely tough competitor, who can play both the safety and corner spots . . . Played in nine games as a rookie, starting two for Norm Thompson before being sidelined with shoulder injury; stopped later in the year with foot problem, plus he played part of the year with broken hand . . . Returned three kickoffs for 139 yards and team-leading 46.3 yard average in 1977 preseason.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL: Great success story, coming from 15th round draft choice to starter in second and third games of rookie season (1976) . . . PRO: Hometown product who was Big Red's first draft choice in 1977... Like Jim Hart, a strong-armed quarterback... Was summoned to starting position in 1978 against the New York Jets after Hart suffered shoulder injury vs. Dallas in preceding week... Marched Big Red to a touchdown in first series of game with five running plays for 58 yards... Completed 10 of 27 passes for 144 yards (two interceptions) as Cardinals lost 23-10... Also played in remaining minutes of Big Red's 24-21 overtime loss to Dallas when Hart was hurt in the game... Preseason 1978 statistics included 16 completions in 34 attempts for 152 yards (three interceptions) with a six-for-nine performance vs. Green Bay... Did not play down in rookie season behind injury-free Hart... Did not have interception in 1977 preseason, completing 11 of 22 passes for 91 yards... Was first quarterback selected in 1977 draft.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL: Set school records at Missouri for most completed passes (277 of 612) and most passing yards (4,130)... Completed 113 of 232 passes for 1,792 yards as a junior... Missed seven games as a senior with a shoulder injury and cut fingers... Best single performance vs. Oklahoma State as junior when he completed 20 of 27 passes for 371 yards, another Mizzou record... Brother (Mike) was infielder in Baseball Cardinal organization before release earlier this year; Steve was offered baseball contract by Reds after high school — he is a shortstop... CARDINAL TRAINING CAMP

THE LINDENWOOD COLLEGES ST. CHARLES, MO

The Big Red will be in their fourth season in 1979 on the campus of The Lindenwood Colleges in St. Charles, some 20 miles northwest of downtown St. Louis.

Prior to conditioning at the present site, the Cardinals trained for their first 13 years in St. Louis at Lake Forest (Ill.) College, in 1973-74 at Illinois State University and 1975 at Eastern Illinois.

The present training home is a school of approximately 1700 students set in picturesque surroundings and dedicated to presenting a varied sports program for the student body. Part of that phase of the operation is the athletic field which has been steadily improved to provide the Big Red with present facilities.

Last year the field was surfaced with Superturf, a newly-developed artificial surface recently installed in the University of Michigan and Ohio State stadiums as well as previously in use at the Patriots' stadium in Foxboro, Mass.

While in training at this location the Big Red live in the Parker Hall dormitory overlooking the practice field and are served meals in the adjacent cafeteria. Living and office space for club officials also is located on campus, in Cobbs Hall.

A charter member of the National Football League, able to trace ancestry to 1898, the Cardinals arrived in St. Louis in 1960 thus celebrating the 20th anniversary year in 1979.

Since the Big Red arrived in St. Louis, the downtown area has entered a period of expansion, growth and progress featuring Busch Memorial Stadium, the 630-foot Gateway Arch and a new Convention Center.

Throughout the 20-year period the Cardinals teams have made steady progress with two NFC Eastern Division Championships, talented personnel and exciting football. Fan interest has constantly increased, too, from a season sale of 13,994 in old Busch Stadium to a record high of 42,233 for 1979.

Founded by the late Chris O'Brien in 1898, the team began as a group gathered to play football in Chicago's south side. The team gained long-standing identification when O'Brien bought some used jerseys from the University of Chicago with the famed Chicago maroon faded.

"That's not maroon, it's Cardinal red," said O'Brien — and the Cardinals it has been ever since.

The team grew in the Chicago area until finally, in 1920, it became one of eleven charter members of the American Professional Football League. The Cardinals won their first NFL title in 1925 with the league expanded to 20 teams.

A Chicago dentist, Dr. David Jones, bought the team in 1929. Then in 1932 the organization was acquired by Charles W. Bidwill, father of the present owner.

The team experienced some difficult years in the 1930's and early 1940's until in 1947 success was realized. Coached by Jim Conzelman and boasting a nucleus of the "dream backfield" of Paul Christman, Marshall Goldberg, Pat Harder and Charley Trippi, the Cardinals won the Western Division title, then trounced the Philadelphia Eagles, 28-21, for the NFL championship.

Before having an opportunity to participate in the victory, Bidwill died in April, 1947, with ownership passing to his widow. Upon her death 15 years later, control moved to sons Charles W. Bidwill, Jr. and William V. Bidwill.

Finally in 1972 Bill Bidwill and his family became the sole owner with Bill becoming managing general partner. In 1979 as of July 1, incorporation of the company was accomplished with Bidwill continuing as chief executive officer and becoming president in the new structure.

It was in 1974 after 14 years as the St. Louis representative when the Cardinals, under the direction of Coach Don Coryell, captured the NFC Eastern Division championship with a 10 and 4 mark only to lose their first playoff appearance since 1948, 30-14, to the Vikings.

Again 1975 brought a division title but another playoff loss, this time to the Rams December 27 in Los Angeles, 35-23.

A series of events took place in the ensuing two seasons which dramatically reshaped the immediate future of the team.

Disappointingly the Big Red were close, but missed playoff berths in 1976 and 1977 after which a frustrated Coryell resigned. Perhaps even more surprising was the announcement March 2, 1978, that the new Big Red coach was the legendary Bud Wilkinson. He was returning to the football field at the professional level some 15 years after his glory days at Oklahoma came to an end in 1963.

There have been many great football names linked with the Cardinals history to date in St. Louis. Among the players who left indelible memories up to the present-day performers are Jim Bakken, Ernie McMillan, Jackie Smith, Larry Stallings and perhaps the most memorable of all, Larry Wilson.

Climaxing a 13-season playing career with the Cardinals and six years in the front office, Wilson was selected to Pro Football's Hall of Fame in 1978. In emotional and impressive ceremonies last July, Larry was officially inducted as the eleventh former Cardinal to gain entrance. The others are Ernie Nevers, Earl "Curly" Lambeau, Jim Conzelman, Paddy Driscoll, Guy Chamberlain, Walter Kiesling, Charles W. Bidwill, Charlie Trippi, Ollie Matson, and Dick "Night Train" Lane.

What will happen in 1979 and thereafter will begin to be written Sunday, September 2, when the Big Red meet arch-rival Dallas in the season's opener at Busch Stadium.

GAME 1 — CARDINALS 10, CHICAGO BEARS 17

Sept. 3 at Chicago (52,791) — Decimated by injuries at the tight end spot, most notably an achilles injury to starting tight end J. V. Cain, the Cardinals opened the season with a "Y" backfield formation (no tight end). Steve Jones filled the "Y" spot with Wayne Morris and Jim Otis at running backs. The Cardinals and Bears tied at three after three quarters. Chicago took a 10-3 lead on a 5-yard run by Walter Payton. The Cardinals tied again at 10 on a 1-yard pass from Jim Hart to rookie tight end Eason Ramson. The Bears scored the winning touchdown with 1:56 remaining on a 1-yard dive by Roland Harper. A last-minute St. Louis drive was stopped at the 14 by a Terry Schmidt interception. Hart was 17 of 33 for 152 yards. Mel Gray caught five passes for 83 yards to lead Cardinal receivers. For Chicago, Payton gained 101 yards on 26 carries and Harper added 93 yards for 18 tries. The Big Red defense sacked quarterback Bob Avellini three times, once each by Mark Arneson, John Zook and Mike Dawson. Avellini was limited to eight completions in 19 attempts for 72 yards.

GAME 2 — CARDINALS 6, NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS 16

Sept. 10 at St. Louis (48,233) — The Patriots dominated the Cardinals in the Big Red's home opener, outgaining St. Louis 441 yards to 193 yards. St. Louis could manage only 57 rushing yards. New England had 21 first downs to nine for the Cardinals. The Patriots took a 3-0 first quarter lead on a 24-yard John Smith field goal. A 5-yard Steve Grogan touchdown run and a 24-yard Grogan to Russ Francis scoring pass gave the Pats a 16-0 halftime lead. The Cardinals scored their TD in the third period when Jim Hart hit rookie wide receiver Jim Childs on an 8-yard pass. Rookie tight end Eason Ramson caught four for 42 yards. Cornerbacks Carl Allen and Roger Wehrli each had one interception. For New England, fullback Don Calhoun rushed for 143 yards on 17 carries and tight end Francis was the leading receiver with six catches for 74 yards. The Cardinals once again opened with the three-man backfield with Steve Jones shifting to the wing back. Following the loss of starter Roger Finnie (ankle) in the Bears' game, Keith Wortman, who had moved from his right guard spot to Finnie's left tackle spot, missed the second half of the New England game with a knee strain. Hart was 12 of 28 for 150 yards. Grogan completed 13 of 21 for 172 yards.

GAME 3 — CARDINALS 10, WASHINGTON REDSKINS 28

Sept. 17 at St. Louis (49,282) — The Cardinals lost for the fifth straight time in meetings with the Redskins. St. Louis did, however, outgain the Redskins, 328 yards to 302 yards, plus produce three more first downs, 19-16. The Cardinals took a 3-0 first quarter lead and then saw the Redskins score 28 unanswered points, beginning with a 99-yard kickoff return by Tony Green. The only Cardinal touchdown, a 27-yard end-around by Mel Gray, came two minutes into the final quarter. Jim Hart had over 170 yards passing for the second week in a row. He completed 16 of 40 passes for 174 yards, including seven to Pat Tilley for 123 yards. Wayne Morris rushed 12 times for 48 yards. Skins' fullback John Riggins gained 108 yards and half-back Mike Thomas got 78 yards, each on 16 carries. Joe Theismann was 5 of 12 for 59 yards passing.

GAME 4 — CARDINALS 12, DALLAS COWBOYS 21

Sept. 24 at Dallas (62,760) — The Cardinals played their best game thus far in the season, but still lost — a 21-12 decision to the Cowboys. The Cardinals did not have a penalty or turnover in the first half against the Cowboys. St. Louis took a 10-0 lead midway through the second period after Jim Hart hit Mel Gray with a 9-yard touchdown pass and Jim Bakken connected on a 23-yard field goal. Gray has scored touchdowns in each of the last eight games with Dallas and has 12 career TDs vs. the Cowboys. Tight end Jim Thaxton blocked a punt midway through the third quarter which resulted in a St. Louis safety. The Cardinals led 12-7 entering the fourth quarter, but two Robert Newhouse touchdowns gave Dallas the victory. Hart completed 15 of 30 passes for 204 yards, including seven to Gray for 107 yards. Wayne Morris was the leading Cardinal rusher with 65 yards in 16 carries. Bakken made 1 of 4 field goal attempts. Tony Dorsett led Dallas with 154 yards on 21 carries and Newhouse added 53 yards in 12 attempts. Drew Pearson was the Cowboys' leading receiver with three carries for 54 yards. Roger Staubach was 16 of 26 for 182 yards.

GAME 6 — CARDINALS 17, BALTIMORE COLTS 30

Oct. 8 at St. Louis (47,479) — For the third consecutive week, the Big Red outgained their opponent. But the results were the same as the first three weeks of the season, the Cardinals continued to lose. Against the Colts, St. Louis held the ball for 10 minutes; out-gained Baltimore 343 yards to 222; had seven more first downs (21-14); and ran 22 more plays (75-53). The Colts, however, won 30-17. Mistakes, which included a Jim Hart pass returned for a touchdown and two blocks of Steve Little punts, stopped the Big Red. The Cardinals were penalized 11 times for 91 yards. The Colts led 21-10 at the half after Lyle Blackwood raced 79 yards with a Hart interception with 30 seconds remaining. St. Louis closed to 21-17 on a 9-yard Wayne Morris TD run. The Colts secured victory with a 35-yard Toni Linhart field goal and 5-yard Bill Troup TD rush that followed a blocked Cardinal punt. Mel Gray was the game's leading receiver with six catches for 112 yards while Jim Otis carried the ball 21 times for 76 yards. For Baltimore, halfback Joe Washington carried 21 times for 88 yards and also had six catches for 32 yards. Troup was 10 of 17 attempts for 77 yards. Willard Harrell returned all six Colt kickoffs for 139 yards.

GAME 7 – CARDINALS 21, DALLAS COWBOYS 24

Oct. 15 at St. Louis (48,991) — After outgaining their opponents in three straight losing contests, the Cardinals moved up one step — tying at 21 in regulation time before losing a 24-21 decision in overtime to the Dallas Cowboys. Rafael Septien's 47-yard field goal three minutes and 28 seconds into overtime gave the Cowboys, who won the overtime coin flip, the victory. The Big Red took a 14-7 halftime lead on two Jim Otis touchdowns, one from two yards and the other from one. Two Tony Hill TDs gave Dallas a 21-14 third quarter lead. The Cardinals tied the game early in the fourth quarter on a Jim Hart to Wayne Morris 1-yard touchdown pass. Jim Bakken missed the go-ahead 33-yard field goal with less than three minutes remaining in the game. The ball hit the left upright. Hart, starting in his 64th consecutive game — best among active quarterbacks in the NFL — suffered a mild shoulder (left) separation when he was sacked by the Cowboys' Harvey Martin with only 56 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter. He finished the day with 17 completions in 28 attempts for 264 yards. Roger Staubach was 23 of 40 for 289 yards. Drew Pearson caught seven for 101 yards. Mel Gray caught four for 89 yards. Jim Otis rushed 28 times for 88 yards. The Cardinal defense held Tony Dorsett to 24 yards in 12 carries. Free safety Ken Stone intercepted a Roger Staubach pass in the fourth quarter, giving him an interception in each of three consecutive games.

GAME 8 – CARDINALS 10, NEW YORK JETS 23

Oct. 22 at New York (49,244) — The Cardinals played without four offensive starters . . . quarterback Jim Hart, left guard Bob Young, left tackle Roger Finnie (all injured) and rookie tight end Eason Ramson (stomach virus). Second-year quarterback Steve Pisarkiewicz, the Cardinals first-round draft choice in 1977, started for Hart and directed the Big Red 58 yards for a touchdown in the opening series of the game. Jim Otis went the final seven yards for the score. A 41-yard Jim Bakken field goal gave the Cardinals a 10-10 halftime tie. The Jets scored 13 third-quarter points — two Pat Leahy field goals and an 11-yard Scott Dierking TD run — to gain the victory. The Cardinals outgained the Jets, 299 yards to 293. Pisarkiewicz, starting his first NFL game, completed 10 of 27 passes for 164 yards, including four to Mel Gray for 105 yards. Otis rushed 12 times for 53 yards and Wayne Morris gained 43 yards in 12 tries. Jets' quarterback Matt Robinson, playing for the injured Richard Todd, completed 11 of 23 passes for 126 yards, with four passes to Wes Walker for 61 yards. Dierking rushed 23 times for 94 yards and Kevin Long added 49 yards in 12 carries. St. Louis punter Steve Little, the Cardinals' first-round draft choice in 1978, injured his right knee covering a punt in the second half and had to leave the game. Jim Bakken, the 17-year veteran who last punted in 1972 — and then only once for 26 yards — was Little's replacement in the game. He had four punts for 147 yards, a 36.8-yard average.

GAME 9 — CARDINALS 16, PHILADELPHIA EAGLES 10

Oct. 29 at Philadelphia (62,989) — Rookie Head Coach Bud Wilkinson was awarded the game ball after the Cardinals registered their first win of the season and gave Wilkinson his first NFL victory. The win ended a 12-game losing streak, longest since the club moved to St. Louis in 1960. Jim Hart, who missed game eight with a shoulder injury, returned to lead the Cardinals to the 16-10 triumph. With Hart completing nine of 13 passes for 223 yards in the first half, the Cardinals took a 13-10 halftime lead. Big Red touchdowns came on a 7-yard Jim Otis run and a 55-yard TD strike from Hart to rookie wide receiver Dave Stief. Jim Bakken added a 31-yard second-half field goal and the St. Louis defense shut out the Eagle offense the final two quarters. An interception by All Pro Roger Wehrli in the Eagle end zone with 51 seconds remaining in the game saved the Big Red victory before the largest crowd the Big Red played to in 1978. Wehrli also was awarded a game ball. Hart finished the day with 12 completions in 23 tries for 260 yards (three interceptions). Mel Gray caught two for 76 yards and Pat Tilley grabbed four for 63 yards. Jim Otis rushed 22 times for 78 yards. The Eagles scored on a 29-yard Nick Mike-Mayer field goal and a 33-yard touchdown catch by Harold Carmichael. Ron Jaworski was 21 for 40 for 231 yards (three interceptions). Carmichael caught seven for 126 yards and rookie Billy Campfield was the Eagles' top rusher with 74 yards on 10 carries. The Big Red first team offensive line played intact for the first time since the second preseason game. It did not allow a quarterback sack. The Cardinal victory was the ninth straight over the Eagles, giving the Big Red 11 victories in the last 12 games against this NFC East rival.

GAME 10 — CARDINALS 20, NEW YORK GIANTS 10

Nov. 5 at St. Louis (48,820) — The Cardinals used a 20-point first half explosion to stop the New York Giants, 20-10. In the initial half, Jim Hart completed 10 of 15 passes for 202 yards, including four to Pat Tilley for 101 yards and two to Mel Gray for 86 yards. A 74-yard Hart to Gray reception was the team's longest of the year. The Cardinals scored TDs on a Hart to tight end Al Chandler 5-yard pass and two Jim Otis plunges — one from two yards and one from a yard away. Otis became the leading rusher in Cardinal history in the game (3,664 yards gained). He carried 22 times for 78 yards and bypassed John Roland (3,608 yards), who had been the Big Red's leading rusher since 1972. Hart finished the day with 12 completions in 23 attempts for 217 yards. The Cardinal defense intercepted three passes and forced two fumbles. Ken Stone returned two of the interceptions 38 yards, giving him six interceptions in the last six games. Joe Pisarcik was 12 of 27 for 196 yards passing for the Giants.

Nov. 12 at San Francisco (33,155) — The Cardinals trailed 3-0 in the first quarter at San Francisco after the 49ers' Ray Wersching kicked a 45-yard field goal. The Big Red, however, scored the game's next 16 points and held on for the 16-10 victory at Candlestick Park. Jim Bakken matched the 45-yard field goal and Jim Hart threw TD passes to tight end Al Chandler (15 yards) and Pat Tilley (five yards). Lee Nelson intercepted a San Francisco pass in the fourth quarter to stop what might have been a go-ahead drive for the 49ers. Hart completed 17 of 38 passes for 221 yards in windy and rainy San Francisco. (It was the 58th 200-yard game of his career.) Mel Gray caught six passes for 93 yards and Tilley grabbed five for 76 yards. Jim Otis rushed 23 times for 69 yards and Wayne Morris added 51 in 10 tries. Otis added another career mark to his credentials, surpassing John Roland in career attempts as the Big Red's all-time leader (Roland had 962). For the 49ers, Scott Bull was 10 of 27 for 180 yards. Bobby Ferrell was the leading rusher with 55 yards on 12 carries and one TD. Rookie tight end Ken MacAfee led the receiving corps with three catches for 43 yards.

Nov. 19 at Washington (52,460) — The Cardinals broke a five-game losing streak to the Redskins with the victory in D.C. The Big Red jumped off to a 24-0 second quarter lead. Willard Harrell returned a punt 70 yards for a touchdown vs. Washington's highly regarded special teams and touchdowns were scored by Dave Stief and Al Chandler. Jim Bakken added a 32-yard field goal and later kicked one from 27 yards. Wayne Morris provided 182 total yards with 123 yards in 36 carries, 30 yards with three receptions and one kickoff return for 27 yards. He was the only Cardinal back to gain over 100 yards in a game in 1978. The 36 rushes was the most ever in a game by a Cardinal runner. Jim Hart completed 13 of 29 passes for 149 yards. Pat Tilley caught four for 66 yards. The Cardinal defense sacked Joe Theismann nine times, intercepted three Theismann passes and limited the 'Skins to 18 rushing yards. Ken Stone grabbed two of the interceptions, giving him a team-high nine thefts in the past eight games. Theismann was 16 of 39 for 267 yards. His favorite receiver for the day was John McDaniel, who had four catches for 119 yards. Bakken's nine points against Washington moved him into second place on the all-time list of NFL/AFL leading scorers. He bypassed Fred Cox's mark (1,365 points), while George Blanda holds the all-time record with 2,002 points.

GAME 13 — CARDINALS 10, PHILADELPHIA EAGLES 14

Nov. 26 at St. Louis (39,693) — The Cardinals' four-game winning streak began with and was ended by the Philadelphia Eagles. The Eagles accomplished something they had not done since 1973 — beat the Cardinals. The Big Red had defeated the Eagles nine consecutive times, including a 16-10 victory earlier in the season. In cold and drizzly weather, the Cardinals took a lead on a 32-yard field goal by Jim Bakken. The Eagles surged ahead 14-3 with TDs by Charles Smith (a 22-yard pass from Ron Jaworski) and Mike Hogan (a 2-yard run). The Cardinals' lone TD came on a 1-yard Jim Hart to Pat Tilley pass. Hart finished the afternoon with 20 of 37 for 197 yards. Jaworski was 13 of 25 for 156 yards. Tilley caught seven passes for 70 yards. Philly's Harold Carmichael grabbed five for 52 yards. Wayne Morris rushed 17 times for 81 yards. The Eagles' Wilbert Montgomery carried the ball 20 times for 58 yards.

Dec. 3 at St. Louis (39,200) — Playing without wide receiver Mel Gray, who sprained an ankle in game 13, and leading rusher Wayne Morris, who was put on injured reserve in the week prior to the game because of a knee problem, the Cardinals still managed a victory over the Lions. After a scoreless first quarter, the Cardinals took a 7-0 lead on a 10-yard run by Steve Jones. The Lions tied the game at 7 and tied again at 14 after the Big Red had taken a 14-7 lead on a 1-yard dive by Jim Otis. The winning score, coming with 7:47 remaining in the contest, came on a Jim Hart to Dave Stief 53-yard pass. Stief, who caught three passes for 79 yards, was playing in place of Gray. Hart was 12 of 24 for 161 yards. For the sixth time in his career, Hart surpassed the 2,500 yards mark for a season. The Cardinals' offensive line limited Detroit's Silver Rush, which was leading the NFL in sacks, to one sack (a middle linebacker blitz). On defense, Perry Smith filled in at the strong safety position after an injury to Ken Stone forced Ken Greene to move to Stone's free safety stop. Smith responded with three interceptions for the game. For Detroit, Gary Danielson was 12 of 28 for 152 yards. The Lions' leading rusher and receiver was Rick Kane with 44 yards on six carries and four catches for 50 yards.

GAME 15 — CARDINALS 0, NEW YORK GIANTS 17

Dec. 10 at New York (52,226) — The Cardinals were shut out 17-0 on the slick and icy turf in Giants Stadium in New York. The victory snapped New York's six-game losing streak and dealt St. Louis the last place spot in the NFC East. New York took a 10-0 first quarter lead on a 30-yard field goal by Joe Danelo and a 6-yard pass play from Randy Dean to tight end Gary Shirk. The Giants' other touchdown came halfway through the fourth quarter on a 12-yard run by Doug Kotar. Danelo added the extra point for each of the Giant TDs. Jim Hart was 15 of 38 for 198 yards with one interception for the day. Second-year quarterback Dean, in his first NFL start, was 8 of 14 for 24 yards with one interception by the Cardinals' Steve Neils. The Cardinals outgained New York in total yards, 341 to 254. It was the ninth consecutive week in which the Cardinals outgained their opponents. The Giants' Doug Kotar led all rushers in the game... he carried 27 times for 117 yards. The Cardinals' Dave Stief was the game's leading receiver with seven catches for 99 yards. Willard Harrell led St. Louis rushers with 82 yards on 15 carries. An 81-yard punt in the fourth quarter by Mike Wood was the second-longest in Cardinal history and in the NFL during the 1978 season. It landed in the end zone for a touchback.

GAME 16 — CARDINALS 42, ATLANTA FALCONS 21

Dec. 17 at St. Louis (40,022) — The Cardinals finished the 1978 season with a 42-21 tromping of the playoff bound Atlanta Falcons. The victory gave the Big Red a 6-2 mark for the season's second half. Atlanta took the lead early in the first quarter on a Ray Strong 1-yard run, but never regained it after the Cardinals exploded with six TDs by five different Big Red contributors. Dave Stief, Al Chandler and Pat Tilley scored on pass plays of 37, 12 and 26 yards. Before Steve Jones ran in from three yards out in the last half of the third quarter, quarterback Jim Hart did the unexpected and scored by running with the ball from two yards away. The Falcons sandwiched-in TDs by Dennis Pearson on a 100-yard kickoff return in the second quarter and Rickey Patton on an 8-yard pass from Steve Bartkowski in the third quarter. But Atlanta could not contain the Big Red fervor which produced 427 yards for the day to the Falcons' 311 yards. To the surprise of St. Louis fans, Hart iced the victory by running in his second TD of the game with three and one-half minutes remaining on a 9-yard run. Hart finished the day 22 of 40 passing for 333 yards, marking his fifth best performance ever in a game. Stief, who played in place of the injured Mel Gray for the third consecutive game, had the best day of his rookie season with nine catches for 183 yards. Tilley had seven catches for 105 yards. For Atlanta, Bartkowski was 16 of 32 for 257 yards. Ernie Jackson was the leading receiver with five catches for 102 yards. Wallace Francis added 80 yards on three catches. The Big Red defense recovered three fumbles and grabbed three interceptions with Carl Allen getting two of the thefts. Bakken, playing in his 234th consecutive game, was six of six on PATs.

1979 POST-SEASON GAME PRIORITY

On December 29-30, the NFC and AFC divisional playoff game matchups will be as follows: The two division winners with the best regular season won-lost percentage will be the home teams. The division winner with the best percentage will be host to the wild card team and the division winner with the second best percentage will be host to the third division winner.

If the wild card team is from the same division as the winner with the best percentage, the division winner with the best percentage will be host to the third division winner and the second highest division winner will be host to the wild card team.

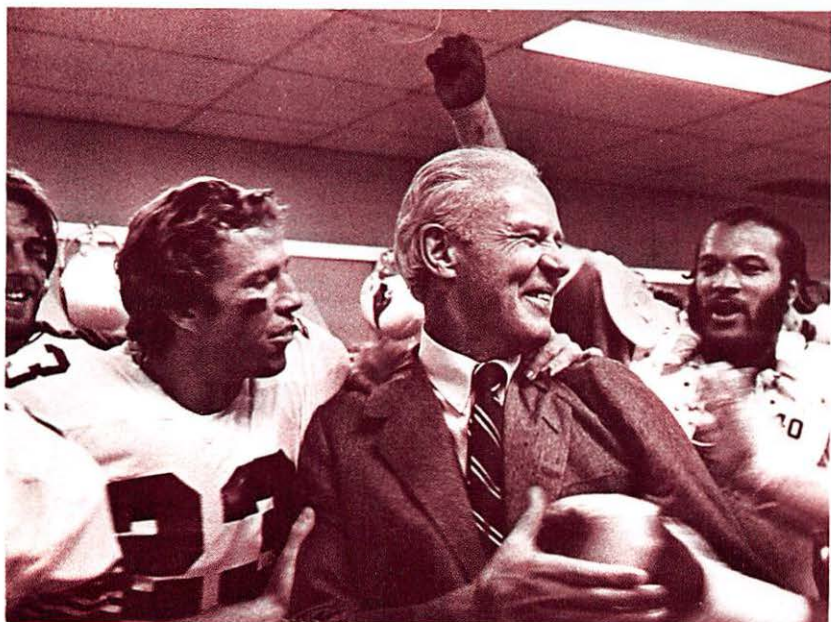

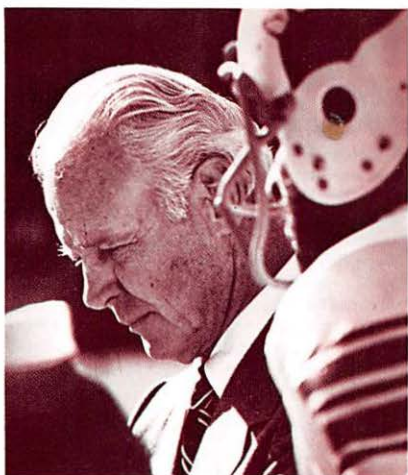

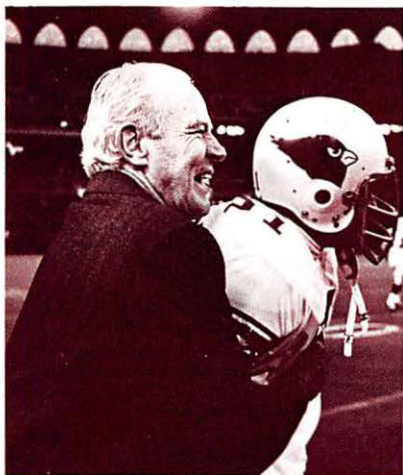

For the NFC and AFC conference championships on January 6, 1980, the surviving division winners with the best regular season won-lost percentages will be the home teams.

FORMULA TO BREAK STANDINGS TIES FOR POST-SEASON PLAYOFFS

To break a tie within a division, these steps will be taken, in order: (1) Best won-lost percentage in head-to-head competition; (2) Best won-lost percentage in games within division; (3) Best won-lost percentage vs. conference opponents; (4) Best won-lost percentage vs. common opponents; (5) Best net points in division games; (6) Best net points in all games; (7) Best net touchdowns in all games; (8) Strength of schedule; (9) Coin toss.

In selecting the wild card teams, if there are two or more teams tied with the leading won-lost percentage, these steps will be taken: If there are more than two teams tied and two are from the same division, the division tie first will be broken. The surviving ties would then be broken under the following conference tie-breakers.

To break a tie within a conference, these steps will be taken, in order: (1) Best percentage in head-to-head competition. This is applicable in a three-way tie only if one club beat both others or one club lost to both others; (2) Best won-lost percentage against conference opponents; (3) Best net points in all games; (4) Best net touchdowns in all games; (5) Strength of schedule; (6) Coin toss.
